

Application Development

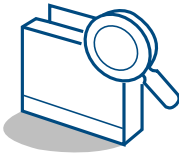

✓ Define

We take a comprehensive approach to project estimation and you can trust that our estimates are based on project realities and a proven approach.

✓ Design

Many development projects require difficult decisions that sometimes require trade-offs between the application features list, development schedule, and your budget.

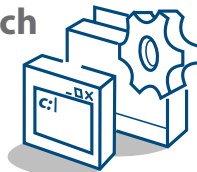

✓ Build

We'll take you in the right direction and we'll take on development issues up-front, to prevent problems later. We will work with you to develop an overall plan to ensure the success of your project.

✓ Test & Launch

We'll test your applications and make sure they work the way you want them to; we then integrate them into your website or any other system.

✓ Manage

We'll continue to work with you and make sure everything is on track and heading in the right direction.

Net Applications Can Drive Opportunity and Growth.

Some of the first online collaboration forums, automated website production tools, ecommerce apps, and webcasting systems ever created were made by Implex developers. We have the skills to program awesome platforms based on your ideas.

The "Development Team" Focuses in Three Areas.

Implex Application Developers & Programming

We develop net-centric applications for large and medium-sized businesses. If you have an idea, we have professional developers who can create the programming to make your vision a reality.

- Teamwork. We will work with you to deliver a platform that meets your needs.
- Veritas. We will work with you to deliver a platform because our developers are the best at what they do.
- Satisfaction. We believe you should be happy about the code you've asked for. We want you to be satisfied that we delivered what you wanted - a solution!
- 'Coders' At Heart. The bottom line is that we love to code; we love developing apps for our clients.

Ecommerce & Collaboration Systems

Our development team will work closely with you to understand your online retail or communication strategy - as well as the target market - to build the systems that meet your technology objectives.

- Technology. We have developed more ecommerce and collaboration solutions for clients than we can count. We know the technologies that deliver results.
- Ecommerce. Whether you want a proprietary system or a custom Ecommerce solution designed from scratch, the system we design and develop for you will benefit from years of experience and first-hand knowledge.
- Collaboration. We develop systems that allow you to facilitate information sharing and management, as well as communications - internally and externally.

Implex Custom-Build Projects

Our experienced development team can custom tailor a web application to meet your exact specifications and provide the best solution for your organization.

- Your Way. Custom web app. development removes the limitations associated with "out-of-the-box" solutions. A custom project allows your company to effectively do business your way.
- Excellence. We have done many high-profile, mission-critical web application development projects for many organizations - delivering experience and excellence.
- We Know Code. We specialize in programming custom web applications for a variety of platforms and languages; from Microsoft's .NET to Java technologies, we know it all.

We Know Code

Implex Technology Lab

We are constantly pushing the internet to new dimensions in the Technology Lab - or 'Tech Lab'. Each year, our industry releases new products that affect what online users think and do. The Tech Lab stays ahead of the trends so our clients can understand and realize the business advantages.

In the Technology Lab, our skilled programmers research and develop 'unifying technology' products that enhance our clients' experiences and better serve business in the digital economy.
